Use of Non-GAAP Measures

Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) is the term used to refer to the standard framework of guidelines for financial accounting. GAAP includes the standards, conventions, and rules accountants follow in recording and summarizing transactions and in the preparation of financial statements. In addition to reporting financial results in accordance with GAAP, the company has provided non-GAAP financial measures, which it believes are useful to help investors better understand its financial performance, competitive position and prospects for the future. These non-GAAP measures include:

- Adjusted revenue
- Organic revenue
- Adjusted earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization (EBITDA)
- Adjusted net earnings
- Free cash flow and adjusted free cash flow

These non-GAAP measures should be considered in context with the GAAP financial presentation and should not be considered in isolation or as a substitute for GAAP financial measures. Further, FIS' non-GAAP measures may be calculated differently from similarly titled measures of other companies. Additional information about these non-GAAP measures is provided in the appendix to this presentation. Reconciliations to the related GAAP measures are provided in the Investor Relations section of the FIS Web site, www.fisglobal.com.
